

MESSAGE TO YOUR HEART

one:           Receiving a signal So strange how it feels Transmitting a message
                  Don't know what it means two:           The first part is saying Don't you have no fear

                  This is most important It's me calling here three:         Someone from somewhere Is sending me beeps

                  Stronger and stronger
                  The message repeats

bridge:        This must be love...
                  ...Must be love
                  ...Must be love

                  This is a message
                  ...To your heart
                  ...To your heart

chorus:        Sending a message just to you Are you lonely, are you blue
                  Can you hear me
                  Can you feel that I need you

                  Sending a message to your heart
                  Though we're million miles apart
                  I can feel you
                  I can feel the way you do four:          Sending a signal An answer to you

                  Transmitting my message Lets you know I'm true five:          The first part is saying Just open your heart

                  This is most important
                  This is about love

six:           Someone from somewhere Is sending you beeps
                  Forever and ever
                  My message repeats

bridge & chorus to fade...
